About the Grant

The Black Violin Foundations inaugural program will provide scholarships of up to $2,500 to youth who would like to continue their musical education through a program of their liking that fosters musical creativity and innovation. Programs can range from private lessons, to summer music camps, to college courses. Proof of program legitimacy must be provided during the application process.

Scholarships will be awarded bi-annually to up to 20 applicants per scholarship cycle. Recipients will be required to submit a follow up report on their musical progress after having received their scholarship and entering their music program. Black Violin will also connect personally with scholarship recipients to provide encouragement and support.

Applications for the first grant cycle are due by March 28th.
Recipients will be announced by April 30th.
